Dr. Yvonne Vizina is an Associate Professor at the University of Winnipeg, where she teaches Indigenous Education and Sustainability Education. Yvonne has been exploring traditional Indigenous teachings about human relationships with the Earth, including how those relationships affect our personal and collective well-being. She has worked with Inuit, First Nation, and Métis scholars, Elders, and community knowledge holders and practitioners in Canada. She has also collaborated with Indigenous Peoples from Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Caribbean, North America, and Oceania. She has a Ph.D. from the School of Environment and Sustainability at the University of Saskatchewan.

Yvonne is a member of the Manitoba Métis Federation, recognized as being Indigenous Peoples in Canada.
