

THE MAGIC OF
John Tudor

John Tudor Newsletter - June 2026

Hello again, and welcome to this Spring's magical newsletter! Inside, there's a mix of stories — Lucky the new magic bunny, a recent review, Voices for Puppets, Main Street Magic, and my recent interview of Mr. Messado.

The biggest news? My wife, Suzann Fair, and I are still buzzing from our cool vacation trip to New York City. We stayed at the iconic Hotel Edison, right in Times Square, and saw some shows and magic history exhibits, did lots of shopping, restaurant hopping, and sight-seeing. The most fun we ever had on a trip!

New Magic Bunny - Lucky

For eight years I performed with a Dutch rabbit named Lucy, who's now in a quiet retirement. A new bunny named Lucky is in training, his name being a nod to the tradition of rabbits being lucky. Seven month old Lucky is ball of energy, but is also a carefully bred pedigree who'd be winning awards in rabbit shows if he hadn't entered show business. Lucky is shown here learning the rabbit card trick.

Most Recent Review

"John Tudor was an absolute joy to work with at our Columbia Art Museum Gala. His magic was enjoyed by all the guests as he smoothly worked the room. The tricks were impressive, fun, and entertaining. I had multiple people remark about what a wonderful addition John was to the event. I would highly recommend hiring John for anything from weddings to corporate gatherings. I look forward to sharing both his magic and friendliness at the next event. Thank you John for sharing your magic with us!" - Tommy Odlaug, Museum Contemporaries

Voices for Puppets

Recently I got to take part again in the recording of voices for a puppet show for the Columbia Marionette Theater. The creative director, John Scollon, and I have collaborated on each others shows for over thirty-five years! For this most recent show, I did a David Attenboro style narrator voice, in a tale about dinosaurs. So much fun! You can see these shows in South Carolina libraries this summer, or at their theater at 401 Laurel St, in Columbia, SC.

Main Street Magic

A wonderful new magic shop and theatre has opened in nearby Newberry, SC. My friends Scott and Janet Robinson have created Main Street Magic, a real magic shop and intimate performance space with world class magicians performing monthly. There are adult shows on Saturday nights, and children's shows on Sunday afternoons. It's a really great venue run by really great people. Check it out!

For Magicians - Mr. Messado Interview

For this week's Mystery School Monday, the Monday night zoom show for students of the McBride Mystery School (now at 779 episodes), I gave a talk on the history and variations of the Linking Rings magic trick. I also interviewed Joshua Messado, creator of Ringistry, a new form of rings magic. He's been a big inspiration to me, and the rave reviews from those who saw it means they found it inspirational as well. If you ever get a chance to see him, run don't walk to see Mr. Messado and the Messado Rings!
