Mentoring

Someone in your corner for what comes next

Big decisions are hard to make alone. I offer an experienced, independent and confidential sounding board: someone who has been there and will tell you the truth.

What I offer

Career mentoring

Find your direction and land the role: job search, networking and interview preparation.

Business mentoring

A discreet sounding board for owners and leaders to test strategy and sharpen decisions.

Personal mentoring

Life coaching for moments of change: clarity, balance and confidence in what comes next.

CV red-teaming

I read your CV the way a hiring panel will, find what holds it back, and help you rebuild it.

Why me

26 Years as a British Army officer, leading people and teaching leadership

ILM Level 3 Coaching & Mentoring, and Foundation in Business Mentoring

FCMI Fellow, Chartered Management Institute

I've founded my own businesses and serve as a Non-Executive Director. Through executive search I see every week what employers really look for.

Who I work with

Individuals

Professionals planning a move, leaders stepping up, service leavers and veterans, and anyone at a crossroads.

Organisations

New senior hires, future leaders, owners and directors, and people in transition, including outplacement.

What clients say

"His career mentoring served as a constructive challenge throughout the process, pushing me to refine my thinking..."

Rachel · Career mentoring

"Guy was great at cutting to the heart of the issue(s) at hand... He challenged me to think bigger and act smarter."

Carl · Business mentoring

"I had lost confidence in my CV before approaching Guy. His forensic approach has brought clarity to every line."

Will · CV red-teaming

Let's talk

The first 20-minute conversation is free. Sessions are one-to-one, in person or virtual. Terms are flexible: I recommend a series of sessions, and the price reflects how many you book.
