Phases – Program Levels at House of FAVAR

The House of FAVAR program offers supervised independent living in a program that has four sequential levels that allows the client to earn higher levels of freedom and personal responsibility over time.

Phase 1 is a period of 6 months prior to release where the inmate acquires/completes the necessary requirements to enter the House of FAVAR.

Phase 2 is the period when a new client has completed Prerelease requirements and is now ready to work a recovery program aided by a mentor.

Phase 3 is a mid-range level where the client is allowed a limited amount of freedom to move independently and required to demonstrate a higher level of personal accountability and continues to be aided by a mentor. In phase 3 the client begins engagement with a church and home groups.

Phase 4 is a higher level where the structure and supervision are significantly decreased and the expectation for personal accountability and initiative are significantly increased. Clients in this phase have highly individualized programs.

Arriving at the House

Upon arrival at the house, you will meet with the staff to review the contract regarding your residency. You will be assigned a room and given a general orientation of the house. Parolees/Probationers are responsible for registering with the parole/probation officers within 24 hours of your release from jail/prison. You will be given a drug screen and tested for Covid – 19 upon initial entry into the house.

Once moved into a room, maintenance and cleanliness of your areas are your responsibility. Roommates must work together to build a climate of mutual respect and harmony while sharing a room. Do not borrow any furnishings from other areas. Do not hang anything on the walls (only stand-up pictures are allowed).

House of FAVAR Services

Supervised Independent Living

This program serves individuals coming from jail or prison with or without a substance abuse history. It includes activities that ensure clients abide by their conditions of probation, intensive probation, or parole.

All clients are provided structure and close supervision in sequential levels to successfully work a recovery program so they can maintain their sobriety. The program also includes services to help them grow spiritually and physically in the Christian faith, find employment, learn budgeting skills, learn social skills, learn computer literacy, improve their credit score and access all the services they need to help them resolve problems in life. This would include:

A comprehensive continuum of support services including a Pre-Release Program, 12 Step Recovery Group Meetings, Open Discussion Groups, Spiritual Counseling, and Special Workshops such as Life Skills, Budgeting, Healthy Families and Work Readiness Classes. We recognize that the disease of addiction affects an individual physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually and that recovery must occur in all these areas. Our clients are voluntary participants in our program and agree to abide by the program guidelines outlined in this manual.

Program service fees for all Clients:

The fee for all clients is $150/weekly. All pay stubs must be reviewed by House of FAVAR staff. If a client falls behind in payments by more than $300, the client is required to develop a “program fee repayment contract” with the house supervisor. The client must pay his $150 per week fee and then use 25% of remaining wages to pay on their back payments. This repayment plan stays in effect until the account balance is $0.

A client will be asked to leave the program (at the discretion of the house director) if:

- The client owes more than $600 in program service fees.
- The client fails to meet the terms of the repayment contract for a second time.
- The client does not make a scheduled payment and neglects to discuss the matter with the house supervisor.
- Improper or inappropriate behavior.

The House staff will decide whether to allow reentry of any client to the program.

Food Subsidy and Preparation

New clients may apply for Emergency Food Stamp assistance (if applicable) to enable them to buy food until they find full time employment. House of FAVAR will provide some foods when available from donations or Food Banks. All meals are prepared by the clients, as are the other duties for maintaining unit cleanliness.

Community Meetings

A weekly community meeting is held for all clients. House of FAVAR staff will announce upcoming activities, discuss rule changes, discuss client concerns and termination appeals, announce Pass Requests, Phase Changes and take maintenance requests. These meetings also provide clients an opportunity to make suggestions to improve the program. Any decisions will be made by the house staff.

Transportation

House of FAVAR will provide transportation whenever possible for clients to go to and from work, medical /social services /legal appointments, program activities, church and /or alternate activities and weekly store runs. Some of which will be provided for a nominal fee. Upon approval, clients are encouraged to obtain their own transportation especially when job sites are not close by. House of FAVAR policy is that clients should feel safe and comfortable in the agency vehicles. The vehicles should be a clean environment and include pleasant conversation and respectful behavior towards one another. Music harmful to the recovery environment will not be allowed in House of FAVAR ' vehicles. House of FAVAR vehicles is a moving advertisement for the program. Therefore, clients must refrain from cussing, or smoking while in the vehicle. Clients may obtain information on how to use Mecklenburg public transportation. Transportation rules are as follows:

2. All appointments must be scheduled ahead of time (as soon as you are notified) and staff notified. This includes all appointments.
3. You must notify transportation and Employment Coordinator of any changes in your work schedule and expect up to a one hour pick up window.

Activities

One of the critical aspects of recovery is the creative use of leisure time. Idle time, boredom, lack of recreation and fun can greatly increase the probability of relapse. Involvement and participation in social activities with Drug-Free Programs and people are encouraged. Supervised activities are periodically planned for the entire community. Attendances at all House of FAVAR functions are mandatory.

Employment Search

After completion of the Pre-Release Program and Job Readiness Training, clients must immediately seek full time employment. When a job of choice is not available, temporary and/or fast-food employment is required. House of FAVAR encourages clients to apply for as many jobs as possible, as often as possible. Clients must not decline reasonable employment or quit a job. After securing a job, clients must complete an Employment Information Form. If extenuating circumstances will prevent a client from being at the house by 6:30 PM, clients are required to call the house of FAVAR supervisor or director in advance to notify them. A Skills Assessment will be conducted prior to employment and an evaluation will be conducted 90 days after employment by the house supervisor. If you quit or walk off your job and you do not make the program fee the next week, you will be asked to leave the program.
