

Making Knitting Personal to YOU

Every knitter has experienced finding the perfect yarn only to realize it doesn't match the pattern. The difference between frustration and flexibility comes down to understanding how patterns actually work.

With over 10 years of experience in knitting design and tech editing, working alongside more than 200 designers, this class is grounded in real-world pattern construction and problem-solving. You will learn how to confidently adapt patterns across yarn weights, gauges, and personal knitting styles without compromising the integrity of the design.

We will walk through practical, repeatable methods for recalculating stitch counts, adjusting sizing, and making intentional modifications that improve both fit and function. This is not guesswork. It is a system you can apply to any pattern.

By the end of this class, you will move beyond strict pattern dependence and into true creative control, equipped to make patterns work for you instead of the other way around.

You'll Learn:

- >> How to substitute yarns effectively
- >> How to adjust for gauge differences
- >> How to recalculate stitch counts and sizing
- >> How to modify patterns without losing structure

Intermediate class: has mastered the basics and can do some advanced work
