What Do You Want? By Kent Van Til
What causes fights and quarrels among you? Don't they come from your desires that battle within you? James 4:1

Desires are thoughts. Sadly, they often begin with the words of our two-year-old selves: "I want that!" We can easily think, for example, "I want a car (or a house) like that." Or, "I wanted the job he got." I want, I want, I want.

Not all of our desires are bad, but many are. If we want something that belongs to others or if we want something at the expense of others, that is typically wrong. Pleasure and enjoyment are great blessings, but if we seek such things only for selfish reasons, that can be wrong too. We can easily deceive ourselves into thinking, "I should have that . . . and why shouldn't I?" Our desires can cause battles within us.

How do we know if what we want is right or wrong? We can take it to God in prayer. And if we think, "I can't possibly ask God for that," it is probably a wrongful desire.

We can also have lots of good desires, though. We may want our children to do well in school. We may want our friend's marriage to be saved. We may want our church to grow. God is pleased when we ask for good things like these with the right motives.

As we think about our desires, let's focus on those that can bring about good for our neighbors, family, and friends. Let's think about what can bring growth in God's kingdom throughout the world. Things like these are in line with the desires of God's heart.

Thank You: Dear Church Family—I have been sitting here reflecting on the last 3 months since I broke my left leg. So many different emotions, but I am on my way to getting back to myself. With this being said, I first want to say Thank You to those who prayed for me and continue to pray. To those who sent the beautiful cards, flowers and gifts. To those who sent all the beautiful meals for weeks. For those who visited and called. Sure made long days much better. I am so blessed to be loved by so many wonderful people,. Please know I am so happy to be on the mend and ready to get back to church.

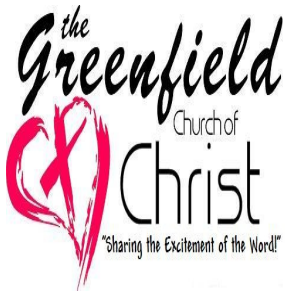

Love and Prayers, Pam Fabin

At the end of the worship service, the minister asked the congregation if anyone needed special prayer. A gentleman came forward and the minister asked him what the church could pray for him about. He said my hearing. The minister quickly put his hand on the man's ear and started praying. The congregation wanted to help and started shouting amen and please help the man. After the prayer, the minister asked him if he felt any better? The man looked at him and said I won't know till next week, that's when my hearing is.

If you haven't been coming on Sundays, now is the time to start back. Fellowship is a very important part of worshipping God. You are missed.

Meeting Jesus

Throughout Jesus' Ministry here on Earth, the Bible talks about the different experiences that He had, traveling from place to place, teaching and telling people what it truly means to follow God and live a life worthy of Him. As we live our daily lives, this question has always stuck in my head, "What would it have been like to physically encounter Jesus? The Gospels are filled with these encounters and they give us vivid descriptions of people's reactions to their time with him, but what would my reaction be if I was there and met Him face to face?

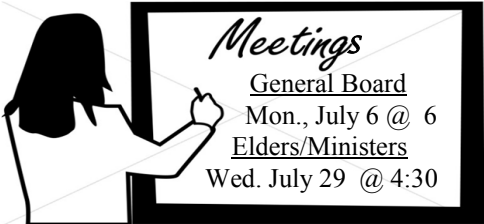

Would I be Terrified like the disciples were when they saw Jesus walk on water and they cried out in fear in Matthew 14:26? Would His teachings be puzzling to me like Nicodemus must have felt when Jesus told Him he must be born again in John 3:1-21? Would my life be transformed like most people mentioned through the Gospels?

If that is a question that you have wondered about in your life, please join us for the rest of the Summer and beyond as we look at "When People Meet Jesus" in the Bible and see how their lives change.

Praise the Lord, my soul, and forget not all his benefits. Psalm 103:2 NIV
A Time to Think: There is blessing hidden in every trial in life, but you have to be willing to open your heart to see them. —Anonymous
A Time to Act: Know that no matter what circumstances we face we must be mindful of the everyday blessings God showers upon us.
A Time to Pray: Lord, in good times and bad, I will praise You for all You’ve done for me.

If you, God, kept records on wrongdoings, who would stand a chance? As it turns out, forgiveness is your habit, and that’s why you’re worshiped. Psalm 130:3–4 MSG
A Time to Think: Man has two great spiritual needs. One is for forgiveness. The other is for goodness.

—Billy Graham
A Time to Act: Know that because of Jesus’ promise to forgive, no matter how many mistakes we make, or problems we create, we can still receive His ever-renewing mercies.
