October it seems is always a busy month with many activities at school and here at church. We are thankful for our Faith Promise Emphasis Week and thank the Lord for your commitment to supporting our missionaries. It's also a time to decorate for fall and get ready for the cooler temperatures.

For November, I like this verse in Psalm 95:1-3 – “Come, let us sing to the Lord! Let us shout joyfully to the Rock of our salvation. Let us come to Him with thanksgiving. Let us sing psalms of praise to Him. For the Lord is a great God, a great King above all gods.” Singing, shouts, gratitude and praise erupted from those gathered to worship the Lord. While there are certainly many example of stillness and silence in God's presence taught and illustrated in Scripture, there are equally as many examples of exceptional worship. Both peaceful silence and enthusiastic praise are appropriate expressions of worship to our great God.

As I was studying the other day, this passage jumped out at me and made me stop to meditate on it. 1 Corinthians 10:31 – "So whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God." I found this story to go along with this scripture. One day, a pig was fervently eating acorns under an oak tree. When the supply started waning, the pig became so engrossed with finding more acorns that he began rooting around in the dirt...exposing the roots of the tree. A crow landed on a tree limb and saw what the pig was doing. He told him, "You really shouldn't do that. If you lay bare the roots, the tree is going to wither and die." The pig continued rooting and replied, "Let it die. Who cares as long as there are acorns?" Many times, people are just like that pig...forgetting about the long-term impact of their decisions and simply acting on whatever impulse they're feeling at the moment. But if we stop and think about our actions, we may discover that some of the things we're doing today are detrimental to our long-term spiritual health. So what's the solution? In everything you do, ask the question: "Is this drawing me and others closer to Christ...or is it pushing me and others away from Him?" When we keep Jesus as the focus of everything we think and do, the decision to honor Him will come naturally. Psalm 100:4 – “Enter His gates with thanksgiving; go into His courts with praise. Give thanks to Him and praise His name.”

Our S.A.I.L. luncheon will be held on Thursday, November 20, at 12:00 pm noon here at the church in the Fellowship Hall. Come join us for a time of fellowship, sharing lunch, and activities.

We will be meeting on Saturday, November 1 @ 10:00 am to pack the Christmas Shoeboxes for Samaritans Purse. Come join us in this endeavor and the blessing of giving a Christmas box to a child. We will meet in the Fellowship Hall.

Have a blessed and a very Happy Thanksgiving~

Blessings... Jay
