

Avocet Health Partners

September 2025 Newsletter

Saudi Medtech 2025: Driving Ethical Innovation

We are honored to serve as Consulting Partners and Solution Providers at Saudi Medtech 2025, held at the world-renowned King Saud bin Abdulaziz University for Health Sciences. This is the region's premier forum for AI and digital transformation in healthcare. The conference will convene global leaders, innovators, and decision-makers in Riyadh from Sept. 17-18, focusing on the latest AI-powered healthcare solutions. Our participation highlights the urgent need to ensure technology advances not only innovation but also accountability and equity—uplifting vulnerable populations and supporting those on the frontlines of care. Guided by our “No One Left Behind” mission, Avocet delivers strategies that align technology with impact, resilience, and compassion.

Will you be at Saudi Medtech 2025? We would love to connect with you there! Let us know you're attending→

Pharmacovigilance for the Forgotten

Avocet Health Partners is proud to share that Dr. Brent Gibson will deliver a plenary session at the International Society of Pharmacovigilance Annual Meeting in Cairo on October 27. His presentation will explore the vital role of pharmacovigilance in protecting at-risk populations, including those in correctional settings.

Avocet at Global Health Exhibition

The Global Health Exhibition in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, from Oct. 27-30 will bring together healthcare leaders across public and private sectors to advance health equity, digital health innovation, and cross-sector collaboration. We are excited to announce that Dr. Gibson will serve as a panelist on integrated and social care reform, highlighting Avocet's leadership in advancing inclusive, digitally enabled health systems. We're proud to contribute to conversations shaping the future of health equity worldwide.

ICPA Annual Conference in Istanbul, Oct. 26-31

At the upcoming International Corrections and Prison Association Annual Conference in Istanbul, Dr. Brent Gibson will speak on correctional officer health—a critical but often overlooked area of workforce well-being. Dr. Gibson's participation underscores his expertise in correctional healthcare, as well as Avocet's global reputation as a trusted expert in addressing healthcare needs across vulnerable and high-stress populations.

Looking Ahead

Nov. 18-19 — Forbes Middle East | PureHealth Healthcare Leaders Summit, held at the Emirates Palace, Abu Dhabi

Follow us on LinkedIn for updates on our global conference participation and thought leadership→

www.avocetllc.com

