November 2019

A Publication of Calvary Lutheran Church, Moline, Illinois

From the Pastor:

As I considered what I wanted to say in my letter to you this month I began to search scripture for a text that would convey my thoughts. And, quite frankly, I didn't find a single concise passage to meet that need. That isn't to say that my point is not supported by scripture, but rather that it would take a more extensive study of several passages or books than there is space or time available here.

The closest passage I came up with that would begin to address my point is this parable from Luke 13:

<sup>6</sup> Then he told this parable: "A man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came looking for fruit on it and found none. <sup>7</sup> So he said to the gardener, 'See here! For three years I have come looking for fruit on this fig tree, and still I find none. Cut it down! Why should it be wasting the soil?' <sup>8</sup> He replied, 'Sir, let it alone for one more year, until I dig around it and put manure on it. <sup>9</sup> If it bears fruit next year, well and good; but if not, you can cut it down.'"

The point of the parable is about patience. In this instance it is about the patience of God giving his people time to bear fruit.

There are, however, multiple passages that encourage God's people to be patience. Consider the story from the exodus when Moses goes up Mt. Sinai to receive the ten commandments. The people grow impatient waiting for Moses to return, and they make a golden calf to worship. Their impatience does not serve them well. The entire book of Revelation, too, is really a plea for God's people to remain patient. The author implores God's people to hang on and trust that God is coming for them despite all the trials and tribulations that they may be experiencing.

Perhaps that most closely reflects my thoughts for you as I write this. We are experiencing all kinds of trials of tribulations in this moment in history. In particular, I am thinking about the coronavirus pandemic. And we are growing impatient. We are, as I hear on the news reports, "covid-fatigued" and want it all to be over. Unfortunately, we don't get to determine when the pandemic is over, and impatience may not serve us well.

I, too, would like everything to get back to normal. But to try return to normal too soon may have serious consequences. We are not immune to the disease. I suspect that between our two congregations we have already lost three members to Covid-19. I am reluctant to take actions that may put more of us at risk of getting sick or worse.

And so, I ask for your patience. We will, I believe, return to some form of normal. But I don't think now is the time. In the meantime, as the Book of Revelation emphasizes, God remains with us through these difficult times and implores us to faithfully, patiently, wait.

In Christ,

Pastor Knowles

P.S. I know that at Calvary we are currently discussing returning to indoor worship. Though I obviously have my reservations, I am willing to move forward. However, it is important to understand that worshiping in the sanctuary will require strict adherence to our guidelines for participation and we will suspend indoor worship if our region returns to the phase 3 restrictions.

Dear Lord, as the leaves begin to turn colors, you are reminding us the fall season is here with winter just around the corner. As the months have dragged on, please help us to stay focused on you. We continue to ask for strength for each of us. Most of all we ask for healing to those named above. This time of year brings its challenges and with Covid19 keeping loved separated is especially hard. Please give comfort to Joe and Barb Geerts on the passing of Joe's father; and to the friends of Kathryn Beardsley. Please be with us as we go forward as the nights become longer and the days shorter. We pray that soon we will be able to worship together as a family in Christ. Continue to guide us in the days ahead and if we falter, renew our spirit with your love. May your loving grace always shine on us. Amen.

We offer our sympathies and prayers to Joe and Barb Geerts on the passing of Joe's father. We also offer our sympathies and prayers to the friends of Kathryn Beardsley. May you find refuge and comfort in our Lord, Jesus Christ.

RETURN TO WORSHIP GUIDELINES

As we consider returning to the sanctuary for worship, the following guidelines will need to be followed by all participants.

- Worship will be limited to 50 participants, including worship leaders.
  - Reservations will be required so we don't have to turn people away on Sunday morning.
- Everyone will be required to wear a mask covering the mouth and nose through the entire service. Masks will be available if someone doesn't have one.
- No gathering in the narthex, Upper Room or Erlander Hall, but come in, worship and leave.
- No singing or congregational responses.
- Abbreviated liturgy (maybe 30 minutes total).
- Households would have to sit at least six feet apart. Pews will be marked and/or roped off. People may only sit in designated areas.
- We will use the "communion kits" we are currently using for the parking lot services. Worshipers will pick up a kit when entering the sanctuary to be used in the pews at the appropriate time in the service. We will not have people coming to the communion rail.
- No passing of offering plates. Offering plates will be set at the entrance to the sanctuary.
- Drinking fountains would be turned off.
- Only one person allowed in restrooms at a time.
- No one who has a temperature, Covid-19 symptoms, or been exposed to the virus should attend.
- Guidelines also recommend that people at high risk of serious complications from contracting the virus (including those over 60 years old) not participate.

Please also note:

- We will take appropriate steps to disinfect the building prior to each service. Hand sanitizer would be available.
- We will continue to post worship services online. It may not be available until Sunday evening. We are exploring livestreaming the service.
- An alternate opportunity for communion in the sanctuary will be offered during the week (an "open house" style).

"OPEN HOUSE" COMMUNION

On Monday November 9, from 2:00-3:00 pm, and Monday, November 23, from 6:30 to 7:30 pm, Pastor Knowles will be available in the sanctuary at Calvary to offer communion to anyone who would like to receive it. This is not a regular service, but a time for people to come in, spend a few minutes in prayer and reflection, and receive the sacrament. Those who wish to participate may come anytime during the designated hour. It is important that those who come follow the guidelines for safety including wearing a mask and maintaining social distancing. A brief devotional liturgy will be available.

The same communion opportunity is available at St. James on November 2 (6:30-7:30 pm) and November 16 (2:00 – 3:00 pm).
