A Message from the Platteville Historical Society

As we move into a new season at the museum, we're excited to share the momentum building behind our latest programs and community initiatives. From hands-on activities that bring local history to life, to expanded partnerships that connect neighbors with the stories that shaped our town, we're working to make the museum a more vibrant part of everyday community life. Behind the scenes, our team is also hard at work organizing and preserving the collection, ensuring that the artifacts entrusted to us are cared for and made more accessible for future generations. There's a lot happening—and we're thrilled to have you be part of it.
