Red Sox sweep the Twins

Conor Wong and Austin Wells key the sweep

The Red Sox swept the Twins moving above .500 for the first time this year. All the games were close with two games going extra innings. In game one, the Twins jumped out to an early lead on a two-run triple by Derek Hill and Royce Lewis sacrifice fly. The Red Sox moved ahead in the third on a CJ Abrams grand-slam. The Twins tied it on a Nolan Arenado homerun off Mason Miller in the 7th. Will Wagner hit a pinch-homer in the ninth off Johan Duran. Mason Miller went 2 innings for the victory and Chad Green got his first save. In game 2 the Red Sox got out to a quick 3-0 lead in the first against Gerritt Cole. Randall Grichuk misplayed a single for two runs and Austin Wells hit a home-run. Cole gave up one more run on a Josh Bell double in the 5th. That is all the Red Sox needed as Michale King picked up the win and Chad Green closed it out for his second save. In game three, the Sox took an early 6-1 lead on some timely hitting from Rafela and Wong. Minnesota tied it in the 8th on a three-run homer from Jake Burger and a Xavier Edwards RBI single. Austin Wells was the hero hitting a solo shot in the 11th. Jake Cousins got the win and Yuki Matsui the save.

Dubon leading the team in hitting in the early going

Minneapolis, MN – Mauricio Dubon is hitting .405 after a stellar series against the Minnesota Twins. Dubon went 6 for 13 in the series, scoring 4 runs and is among the league leaders in average. He keyed two rallies in the 3rd game of the series. In the 4th he lead-off with a single and scored on a Conor Wong RBI single. In the 5th he singled and scored on another Conor Wong single. After the game Dubon was interviewed and he praised his teammates effort and also noted there is a long way to go and we have to play them one at a time,
