RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Actor

Sam began his passion for the entertainment industry as an actor, he attended New World School of the Arts for high school in Miami, Florida, and he graduated with a 4.4 GPA in the Acting school. He then went on to receive his BFA in Acting at Southern Methodist University, where he worked on their improv showcases, sketch shows, and played Hamlet in Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are dead. Recently he worked on a promo for the Evil Dead Video Game, starred in a short film, Glowin', and a few media advertisements.

Producing

In many different roles, production coordinator, manager, producer, and producer,

Sam has worked on multiple theater productions, as well as films. Sam is growing his strength as a producer, and has excelled in the decision making role.

Responsibilities have included securing locations, cast and crew, distribution, keeping track of budget and daily needs. He has experience conferring with location contacts, maintaining calendars, minor technical work, and excels with problem solving and project management.

Assistant Director

Sam has worked as Assistant Director on a handful of new film projects. His background as a manager onstage and off has greatly helped in his ability as Assistant director. Sam has experience and knowledge with working between departments, keeping shoots on time, making call sheets, and efficiently following shot lists.

Production Assistant

Sam has enjoyed his opportunities to work as a Production Assistant, and has also served as a Driver, and a Health and Safety Set Coordinator. He enjoys the opportunity to meet people and get to know his role, and approaches every day as a learning opportunity.
