Road Music in your Mustang

Donald Farr, in his editorial published in the May issue of Mustang Times, does a great job of describing how music has impacted our Mustang memories. He says, "In addition to the roar of the exhaust, music has been the soundtrack to our Mustang experience, starting with the beat of The Beatles in April 1964 when the Fab Four held the top five spots on the Billboard chart."

We know in our bones that a cruise in our Mustangs must be accompanied by music. Farr detailed our music history, where our Mustang speakers have blasted out disco, southern rock, Michael Jackson, Garth Brooks, Bruce Springsteen, Bruno Mars, Taylor Swift, and many years of the Rolling Stones. We've listened to AM/FM radio, 8 tracks, cassettes, CD's, and now even SiriusXM.

I was inspired by Google music about Mustangs, and Google did not disappoint. Some of the songs I knew, many I did not. Here are some of the list. Mustang Burn, Little GT, Red Mustang, Like a Five-O, Hopped Up Mustang, Pretty Little Mustang, Mamma Drove a Mustang, Blame it on the Mustang, and many versions of Mustang Sally, a #4 Billboard hit for Wilson Pickett in 1966 (according to Donald Farr)!

Music is always playing when I'm cruising in my Crimson Red 2004 40 th Anniversary Mustang GT. My selections range from Christian Rock to Lynard Skynard and Santana.

What flavor is the music in your Mustang?

A LITTLE JOKE

A Montana cowboy was overseeing his herd in a remote mountainous pasture when suddenly a brand new BMW advanced out of a dust cloud toward him.

The driver, a young man in a Brioni suit, Gucci shoes, Ray Ban sunglasses and YSL tie, leans out the window and asks the cowboy "If I tell you exactly how many cows and calves you have in your herd, will you give me a calf?" The cowboy looks at the man, obviously a yuppie, then looks at his peacefully grazing herd and calmly answers, "Sure,. Why not?"

The yuppie parks his car, whips out his Dell notebook, connects to his iphone and surfs to a NASA page on the internet where he calls up a GPS satellite navigation system to get an exact fix on his location which he then feeds to another NASA satellite that scans the area in an ultra-high resolution photo. The young man then opens the digital photo in Adobe Photoshop and exports to an image processing facility in Hamburg Germany. Within seconds he received an email that the image has been processed and the data stored. He then acceses a MS-SQL database through an ODBC connected Excel spreadsheet with email and received a response.

Finally he prints out a full-color, 150 page report on his hi-tech mini HP LaserJet printer and turns to the cowboy and says, "You have exactly 1,586 cows and calves". "That's right." says the cowboy. "Well I guess you can take one of my calves". He watches the young man select one of the animals and looks amused as the young man stuffs it into the trunk of the car. The the cowboy says to the young man "Hey—if I can tell you exactly what your business is, will you give me back my calf?"

The young man thinks about it for a second and says "Okay, why not?"

The cowboy says "You're a Congressman in the U.S. government"". "Wow, that's correct" says the yuppie. "But how did you guess that?"

"No guessing required" answered the cowboy. "You showed up here even though nobody called you, you want to get paid for an answer I already knew, to a question I never asked. You tried to show me how much smarter than me you are, but you don't know a thing about cows. This is a herd of sheep Now give me back my DOG!"

Sorry—I know it's a little long but I heard this and laughed out loud so thought y'all would like it too!
