

Physical Activity Readiness Questionnaire (PAR-Q)

for teens (17 and under) to be filled out by a parent or guardian, including:

- Contact details in case of emergency
- Medical questions
- Questions about being approached, being touched, and photos

The purpose of this form is to protect your child's health and safety. Please read this form before your child attends the first aerial hoop class in order to discover whether there is any reason why aerial hoop exercise may not be safe for her/him. If you are in any doubt, email hello@ooftheblue.com.

Depending on your answers to these questions, it may be unsafe for your child to practise aerial hoop, and she/he may be asked to withdraw. Outoftheblue may also suggest that your child see a health professional to determine whether aerial hoop is safe for her/him.

Your answers will be stored and used in line with the GDPR and Data Protection Act 2018 and will not be shared with any other parties. The information you provide will be kept in confidence.

4. Additional medical questions (PAR-Q)

Question	Yes/No
Do you consider your child to have a disability/impairment? (The Equality Act 2010 defines a disability as a physical or mental impairment which has substantial and long-term (lasting more than 12 months) adverse effect on a person's ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.)
Aerial hoop involves pulling on and hanging from many parts of the body. Does your child have any bone or joint problems (e.g., back, knee, hip) that you think might be aggravated by aerial hoop work?
Aerial hoop can be very uncomfortable if you are extremely thin or very underweight. Could this apply to your child?
Does your child have any medical conditions affecting their skin's surface that may be aggravated by a heavy weight pressing on it? (E.g., eczema, varicose veins, bruises very easily due to a medical condition.)
Aerial hoop involves muscular strength work, cardiovascular work, and the pressure of the hoop pressing hard on many parts of the body. It also involves a lot of inverted work. Bearing these things in mind, can you think of any other reason why aerial hoop might not be safe for your child?
If you have answered yes to any of the above, please give details below or contact Debora at hello@ooftheblue.com:

5. Spotting, being approached, and being touched

In class we usually work in pairs, one on the hoop, one spotting. Spotting is where a classmate provides different kinds of support for a person on the hoop. This might be reassurance, encouragement, support, guidance or very occasionally emergency rescue. The instructor teaches participants how to do the spotting, and also spots some moves herself. Spotting sometimes involves touching a dancer on the back, shoulder, knee, etc. in order to ensure their safety or to guide them into the correct and safe position, and usually involves standing close to the dancer.

Important questions about spotting, being approached and being touched.	Yes/No?
Would you be happy for a classmate or the instructor to stand close to your child and to touch her/him if this was necessary in order to keep her/him safe on the hoop?
If you answered yes to the previous question, do you accept the potential infection risk to your child (e.g., COVID-19) that this close proximity of persons might incur?

6. Photos

If clients are agreeable, we often post class photos on social media (Facebook and in future Instagram) and sometimes on the Outoftheblue website.

Important question about photos	Yes/No?
Are you un comfortable with having photos of your child posted on social media?

7. Your signature as parent/guardian

In signing this form, I the parent/guardian of the aforementioned child, affirm that I have read this form in its entirety and I have answered the questions accurately and to the best of my knowledge. I understand that my child is responsible for monitoring her/himself throughout any activity, and should any unusual symptoms occur, my child understands the importance of informing the Instructor immediately.

I agree to advise Outoftheblue if the answers to any of the above questions change while my child is attending hoop classes.

I agree to Outoftheblue acting in loco parentis and if the need arises administering emergency first aid, and/or other medical treatment required in line with the medical information given on this PAR-Q form.

In the event that medical clearance must be obtained before my child's participation in an exercise session, I agree to contact my child's GP and obtain written permission prior to the commencement of the exercise activity, and that the permission be given to the instructor. I understand that if my child fails to behave in a manner that is polite and social, he or she could be suspended from that particular activity.

8. Keeping in touch

Please go through these practical and class conduct rules with your child.

Practicalities

- Bring a bottle of drinking water, to be left at the side of the room.
- No metal or hard jewellery to be worn apart from small earrings.
- Wear close-fitting clothes top and bottom. No bare legs. No combat trousers. Bring a long-sleeved top.
- On cold days, wear or bring additional warm clothes in case the hoop room is cold.
- For safety reasons, we have to work in bare feet or sticky/yoga socks (socks with rubbery patches on the bottom).

Conduct

- Listen, respect others and don't be rough.
- Encourage and praise peers.
- Don't touch the hoops until you are told to.
- Be careful walking around the hoops. They swing and can knock you over.
- During class, be alert. No social media, no messing about, no casual chatter.
- When you are being the spotter, concentrate on the hoop work. Be encouraging and responsible.
- Never work on the hoop without a spotter unless instructed to do so.
- Never work on the hoop without an 8-inch (very thick) gymnastics mat unless instructed to do so.
- You will be taught how to dismount from the hoop. Never intentionally jump or fall out of the hoop onto the mat.
- Don't let go of the hoop unless your feet are very near the mat.
- Don't practise or make up your own moves on the hoop. If there is something different you want to try, discuss it with the instructor first.
- Be aware of the way your own body is responding to hoop work. If something hurts, is too difficult, or too strenuous, tell the instructor. Remember, hoop is meant to be fun. It's not a test. Don't overdo it.
