

General Information for “Doctor Beware”

The movie is composed of 5 segments: The background story which is narrated by a single character. The other 4 segments are 15-20 film minutes, each of which is basically a short film in itself and not related to the other segments.

Acting requirements are broken down by segments into 3 categories:

Major (which requires one full day of filming and a large number of lines of script)

Medium (which requires a half day of filming) and 2-3 pages of script

Minor (which requires 1-2 hours and 1-2 hours of script)

All filming will be done in or around Rochester. All actors are paid based on the role and their experience. Final filming dates will be set once the cast for each segment is set. If you are interested in a role, please fill out an audition form and attached 1-2 recent pictures. These pictures do not need to be professional, just a realistic portrayal of you. Unless specified below, any of the characters can be either male or female. Depending on the role, you may be asked to send in short reel.
