Sci-Hall Invitation of Journal Editorial Board Members

Dear scholar,

On behalf of Sci-Hall Press, an open access scientific and academic publisher (www.sci-hall.com) registered in the Canadian Federation, located in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, I invite you to join the journal editorial board or review committee.

Sci-Hall will launch open access journals covering the fields of Economics and Policies, Management Science, Education and Sociology, Resources and Ecology, Sciences and Technology (<https://sci-hall.com/journals>).

All journals are international, fully peer-reviewed, open access, and highly open indexed. Sci-Hall Press organizes rapid review and publication. Low article processing fees, and format-free initial submissions are for all journals. We are committed to making high-quality scholarly articles and books freely available to the public.

Sci-Hall Press continues to invite scholars in related fields who are committed to contributing to scientific knowledge to join the editorial board. Through cooperation with the other members, the editor contributes to the sustainable development of the overall breadth and depth of the journal's content.

Being a member of the journal editorial board is a voluntary job. However, by joining the editorial board of Sci-Hall open access journals, you and your team will benefit from the academic social network of the Sci-Hall publishing platform. You can also publish academic announcements for free on the Sci-Hall website. Contributions to Sci-Hall publications will also earn you corresponding academic experience and reputation.

The initial term for a journal editorial board member is TWO years. During the term, the main responsibility of editors is to

- Invite more peers to join,
- Review submissions in a timely manner,
- Implement and apply the editorial policy of the journal,
- Propose special issue on a topic related to their research interests,
- Promote the journal(s) at peers or conferences and share call for papers,
- Provide feedback on journal policies and advice for journal development strategy.

- Being an editorial board member, you are expected to recommend at least ONE submission (article or book) PER YEAR to Sci-Hall.
- In 2022, the article processing charge (APC) per article accepted is US$100. The APC is subject to change and Sci-Hall has the final say.
- Editors are also encouraged to submit papers and book proposals/manuscripts to Sci-Hall. All submissions will be processed under double-blind peer review.

If you are interested in joining in Sci-Hall Open Access Journal Editorial Board and sharing of scientific/academic knowledge, please fill out the form and send it to editorscihall@gmail.com and cc to the editor-in-chief lzhan143@uottawa.ca.

If you cannot find a journal in your research area, please fill in the form with proposed journals and send it back. Sci-Hall will record you in the editorial talent pool and will contact you directly when relevant journals are approved.

We expect your joining and thank you in advance for your support!
