

December 6, 2025

Sackets Harbor Arts Center

Newsletter

Dear Member,

The 2025 season at the art center was a good one. The annual Members Meeting was very well attended. It was nice to see so many familiar faces and get to mingle with fellow members.

This year's annual member Art and Craft Fair was well received. Great items were offered for sale and as usual, the participants were served a tasty lunch along with laughs and comradery. Even though the art center is closed for the winter, many board members are working behind the scenes. There is a fundraising letter campaign in the works as well as preparing for the spring opening. It seems like a long way off, but it really takes a lot of planning.

Monica Sondej will be checking the membership in anticipation of sending our renewal reminders mid-March. Please be sure to update any changes of address, phone number, email changes, etc.

Beth White is working on the well anticipated spring youth show with assistance from Peter Basta.

I am currently seeking class proposals for the 2026 season. One class is scheduled to date but we need several more. We have had requests for classes that are single day, short in length, all materials included, and photo provided of the particular subject the students will be working on. If you are willing to teach a class next season, please message me. If you know anyone who may be interested in teaching a class, please pass on my name and email to them. The art center has many events during the short season, so the schedule must be set early to get everything on the calendar. It also takes several months to get the class schedule on the website, online payments set up, and flyers made as well as class brochures created and printed.

I wish everyone a very happy holiday season and prosperous new year. I look forward to seeing you all in the spring!

Sincerely,

Theresa Mehaffy, Gallery Director, Sackets Harbor Arts Center