About the Music ... “I Believe”

“I Believe” by Mark A. Miller is a poignant choral piece that gives voice to faith that endures through suffering and loss. Its text, believed to have been found written on the walls of a World War II concentration camp, expresses a deep trust in God and in the goodness of humanity—even amid darkness.

As we observe All Souls’ Day, this work speaks directly to our remembrance of those who have passed from this life. It reminds us that love and faith do not end with death, but live on in the hearts of those who believe. “I Believe” becomes a prayer of hope and comfort—a musical reflection on the promise that even in sorrow, the human spirit can find light, peace, and eternal life.

Today we are discussing the how God's people wandered throughout the desert (Exodus 16:1-8, 13-15; 17:1-7), and God provided them with what they needs, and how he does that for each of us.

Helper downstairs on 11/16 is Betsy Regber

Help the people navigate the maze to find each of the items God provided to them on their wandering in the desert.
