

WORK SMARTER, NOT HARDER

Enrichment activities provide our dogs with behavioural diversity and aims to meet our dog's behavioural needs.

Here are some tips to add enrichment to the activities you are most likely already doing with your dog, so you can work smarter, not harder!

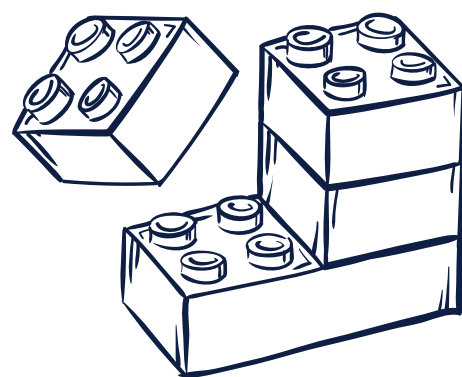

WONDER WANDER

You're already walking your dog. Let them stop and sniff to their heart's content. Allow them to dictate the route so that they can explore and process the world.

FEEDING FUN

You are already feeding your dog. Instead of putting their food in a bowl, serve their food in a snuffle mat, puzzle feeder, licki mat and Kongs. You can make your own DIY feeders using toilet rolls, cardboard boxes, egg cartons or a rolled up towel. Add variety to keep them engaged and stimulated.

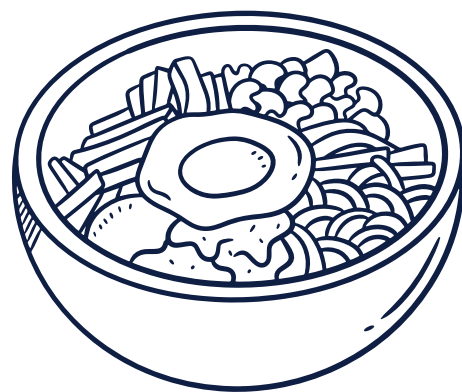

AROMATIC AMUSEMENT

You're already playing fetch/tug with your dog. Add some scent enrichment to their toys, like placing their toys in a container with dog safe scents like chamomile, rosemary, lavender or even some catnip!

TANTALISING TASTES

You're already preparing dinner. Before adding salt and spices to your cooked veggies, place some aside to stuff some Kongs. You can also use raw veggies, if your dog likes them. For longer lasting fun, freeze the stuffed Kong before serving it to your dog.
