About Me

"The only dumb question, is the one you don't ask!"

I am a bit old-fashioned, but still in touch with today's generation. I grew up working on a large farm in the Wisconsin mid-west area until I entered the Army at age 18. My experiences serving in the military for 16 years has helped shaped me into the human I am today. I am a huge animal lover, having three cats and two large dogs at home. I love everything there is to do with the great outdoors. Fishing and being out in nature are just a couple of my coping strategies. I also love to hunt, camp, and ride my motorcycle.

I think of myself as a tinkerer/fixer. I like to find things that are broken and try to fix them; everything from heavy machinery to household items. I like challenges where I don't know if I can fix the item. I have found with patience; each item can be fixed. I have applied these lessons to my life.

My other hobbies include cooking, military history, photography, computers and occasionally video games. I have a son, a daughter and 4 stepchildren; 3 with special needs. I feel everyone has something to offer and teach to this world.
