Friday, March 20, 2020

10:30-12:00 pm: Workshops

College Faculty Track: Nautilus #3:
Risk Management Strategies: Teaching and Learning Spinal Manipulation
David Starmer, Shari Wynd, Dana Hollandsworth, Daryl Ridgway, Paul Osterbauer, Lisa DeMarco, Mitchell Ludwig

1:30-3:00 pm: Scientific Contributed Platform Sessions

Clinical track: Nautilus #2

Patients’ and interns’ expectations of adverse events: data from an electronic active surveillance study at a teaching clinic
Authors: Katie Pohlman, Martha Funabashi, Gregory Kawchuk, Sheila Hogg-Johnson, Silvano Mior

Strategies to mitigate benign adverse events for spinal manipulation: exploring clinicians and patients perceptions
Authors: Martha Funabashi*, Katie Pohlman, Alex Lee, Anthony Tibbles, Silvano Mior, Greg Kawchuk

Exploring patient and clinician experiences and beliefs about benign adverse responses to spinal manipulation in chiropractic teaching clinics: a cross-sectional survey
Authors: Martha Funabashi, Katie Pohlman, Alex Lee, Anthony Tibbles, Silvano Mior, Greg Kawchuk

Education track: Nautilus #5 – Moderator: Dana Hollandsworth

3:30-5:00 pm: Scientific Contributed Platform Sessions

Basic Science: Nautilus #2

Sonographic evaluation of the degree of medial meniscal extrusion during Thessaly test in health knees
Authors: John Chinsuk Cho, Lauren Tollefson, Kenneth Reckelhoff

Integration / Education: Nautilus #3

Chiropractic students’ attitudes toward orthopedic spine surgeons and physical therapists: before and after a clinical rotation
Authors: Jesse Cooper, Gary Tam, Katie Pohlman

Education Track: Nautilus #5 - Moderator: Katie Pohlman

5:00-6:00 pm: Poster Reception – Harbor Island Ballroom

1. Impact of Force-Sensing Table Technology (FSTT) on student’s self-perceived confidence when learning cervical techniques
Authors: Daniel Armstrong, Alex Naquin (student), Dana Hollandsworth

2. A descriptive analysis of US chiropractic teaching institutions’ clinical application of patient reported outcome measures and screening tools for low back pain patients
Authors: Jesse Cooper, Jordan Gliedt, Katie Pohlman
Con't - 5:00-6:00 pm: Poster Reception – Harbor Island Ballroom

3. Ask your doctor before beginning a new diet: a chiropractic student survey
   Authors: Gregory Hollandsworth, Vanessa Morales

4. Identification of master patient index (MPI) record challenges from healthcare professionals’ perspectives
   Authors: Joe Lintz

5. Evaluation of a research article for quality and relevance in a microbiological lab setting for trimester 2 chiropractic students
   Authors: Anjum Odhwani, Paula Robinson

6:00-7:30 pm: Workshops

Research Track: Nautilus #2
A session with CARL: fostering the fundamental resources to support early career
Katie Pohlman, Martha Funabashi

Saturday, March 21, 2020

BREAKFAST: Women in Chiropractic Research: Understanding the need for diversity: increasing women’s role in chiropractic research – Katie Pohlman, Katie de Luca

9:30-10:30 am: Poster Session - Harbor Island Ballroom (same as Poster Reception above)

10:30-12:00 pm: Workshops

Clinical Track: Nautilus #1
Impacting women’s health through wellness, prevention, and pain management across the lifespan
Authors: Katie de Luca, Katie Pohlman, Claire Johnson, Kristina Petrocco-Napuli

3:00 –4:00 pm: Scientific Contributed Platform Sessions

Clinical Track: Nautilus #1
Patient-centered outcomes in clinical pediatric manual therapy research studies: where are we?
Authors: Carol Prevost, Katie Pohlman, Kris Anderson, Beth Carleo

Theme/ Education Track: Nautilus #3
The impact of retrieval practice stakes on knowledge retention
Authors: Ashlee Kates-Ascioti, Chad Warshel, Suellen Christopoulos-Nutting, Amy Simolo

Education Track: Nautilus #5
Perceptions of the present and future role of chiropractic qualifying examinations: a qualitative analysis of an international stakeholder survey
Authors: Bart Green, Claire Johnston, Richard Brown, Douglas Lawson, Charmaine Korporaal, Ricardo Fujikawa, Eric Russell

A curriculum review to identify gaps in evidence-based practice (EBP) competencies within a chiropractic teaching program
Authors: Destiny Yerby McErloy, Dana Lawrence, Katie Pohlman

Women’s health and chiropractic: a publication analysis and scoping review to identify research gaps
Authors: Claire Johnson, Bart Green, Katie Pohlman, Katie de Luca, Kristina Petrocco-Napuli