

Recruiting and Talent Management

Today, hiring is more difficult than ever before. Finding the right person for the right position with right work ethic, passion, ability and drive is paramount for the long-term health and success for your business. The process is taxing and demanding on your organization. What if you could outsource this vital task to a dedicated professional who knows and cares about you and your business?

Who is Revalant?

Revalant's team of experts know the Corporate Housing Industry like no other. We start with interviewing your hiring team. We want to know your critical success factors, then we tailor our approach through our customized program. We provide outsourced recruiting for any size business and support, supplement or manage your recruiting efforts by supplementing your HR and hiring teams.

We continuously search for qualified candidates and help you build a workforce that supports your company culture and goals.

How is Revalant different? We cut through the clutter and find exceptional candidates through a three-point approach:

Utilize our broad set of tools including social media and well-established HR Recruiting tools (LinkedIn, Zip Recruiter, Indeed) to find well vetted and qualified candidates.

Utilize Revalant's own proprietary database platform of Hospitality, Corporate Housing and Furniture Rental contacts which will reach the broadest array of candidates in the quickest amount of time.

The Revalant difference: A thorough company culture assessment combined with behavioral-based checks and balances ensure the candidates will be perfectly suited to your needs before they reach your desk

Services Offered:

- Retained recruitment: We customize a monthly program that affords your organization multiple candidate sourcing for multiple positions.
- Contingency recruitment: As-you-need-it, industry-leading recruiting. We help you fill critical positions for an established percentage of the salary. You pay only when the organization hires someone.
- Build a recruiting strategy that supports your company goals. Whether you're crafting an initial recruiting structure or simply repairing an ineffective process, our experienced team of professional recruiters can assess your current recruiting program and make recommendations on how to best fill in any gaps.
