FosterWorks is a sheet metal fabrication shop specializing in cutting, forming, rolling, stamping and spinning. Lucy Minturn, Liz Kloster, and their team build on 50 years of experience to offer domestic manufacturing options and vendor diversification from a women-owned business. From components and assemblies to custom work, their collaborative process with clients yields superior results. FosterWorks is the revitalization of a business that has lived in Chicago for half a century, and that's where they will stay — supporting the urban fabric of this great city by being part of a vital manufacturing ecosystem, and providing jobs for those in our community.
