REFERENCE FOR JENNIFER ZIVA LAUXMAN

I have known Jennifer for about ten years. She has the rare combination of having academic rigour in all she does, passion for the power of heritage to inspire and critically that magic touch that emotionally engages all kinds of people of all ages through her demonstrations and capacity to captivate through her storytelling.

Jennifer is an inspiration to work alongside, never seems to stop learning stretching herself always to learn more and to be sure always willing to share that learning.

In a world that is changing sometimes for the worst these are times when human beings like Jennifer and the work she does and the impacts she can create are needed more than ever.

I have no hesitation in writing this reference for Jennifer.
