

TANGELA LEVINSON

Tangela Levinson Studio

Art Direction • Fashion Styling • Editorial Concepts

From precision engineering to editorial direction—systematic thinking shapes every creative decision. As founder of Tangela Levinson Studio, I architect visual narratives that transcend traditional styling through strategic creative direction.

My practice encompasses luxury styling, editorial art direction, creative producing, and creative consulting for private clients, luxury brands, and creative professionals. Each collaboration begins with understanding your vision, then applying methodical expertise honed through Fortune 500 project management and editorial training to create imagery and experiences that command attention and build legacy.

I partner with private clients, luxury brands, and creative professionals who seek styling that moves beyond trends into timeless cultural impact.

VISION PRECEDES EXECUTION.
