GULFPORT IMPROV 101 CLASSES

WHEN/WHERE

Six Sundays: November 2, 9, 16, 23, 30. December 8 at the Gulfport Community Players' Back Door Theater, 1619 49th St S, Gulfport

COST

$150.00 for six weeks.

IMPROV 101

The class takes inspiration from the show “Whose Line Is It Anyway” to create a series of games that will get your creative juices flowing. You’ll hone your spontaneity, play with words, build trust, and sharpen communication skills. You’ll be mastering the art of comedic timing, acting talents, and active listening. Whether you’re an acting pro or a complete newbie, this class is for you.

THE INSTRUCTOR

This is the second time that Laura Banks, the instructor, is offering this class. Laura Banks has many years of experience teaching and performing in Florida, Los Angeles, and Connecticut. She was in New York City with “The Groundlings East,” and Whoopi Goldberg in California. Laura is a cast member of “The Dinner Detective” in Tampa and performs at The Spitfire Comedy Club.

CONTACT

LauraBanksMarketing@gmail.com or text her at 727-313-1500. If you already have some improv training and are ready for the next step, an intermediate class is also forming on the same dates. The intermediate class would meet from 1PM-3PM
