

Fulfill your annual continuing legal education in a medieval castle. For the first time in 375 years, Redwood Castle in Co. Tipperary, Ireland returns to its ancient roots as a law school for this special lecture series.

August
13-14
2026

The Redwood Lectures

Introduction to early Irish law featuring examination of Críth Gablach (~700CE), presented by Fangzhe Qiu of University College Dublin

Explorations of the social-political system in early medieval Ireland and the interactions between legal systems in the late 16th century presented by Andrew Ó Donnghaile of University College Dublin

Examination of the status of women in early Irish law and the study of Aídbred and related texts concerning lost and stolen property, presented by Charlene Eska of Virginia Tech

Discussions of European medieval legal systems and practice, presented by Héléna D. M. Lagréou of University College Dublin

More Information at www.kevinegan.ca/redwood

Accommodation and transportation to and from the hotel will be made available. Details to follow.