Looking Towards the Future

For 30 years FQ Doors has been building premium quality commercial doors and hardware for the DMV area, and innovative thinking has been at the heart of the company since the beginning. The recent growth has resulted in a new standardized identity, a symbiosis of design and engineering excellence. With this new voice revitalizing the history and work of FQ Doors, The company is poised to be one of the top commercial door suppliers in the market for top of the line access control and security solutions. Along with strong brands such as Hager and Tormax USA in its portfolio, FQ Doors is able to offer the single-source supply of innovative doors, entry solutions, and hardware services covering the full range of door technologies offering safe and secure access to buildings and interiors.

Since the beginning FQ Doors provided customers and partners with security and reliability at every stage along the line, crafting simple access solutions for complex problems. Simplicity is born out of a carefully conceived design process and the new design implemented by FQ Doors constitutes a major step in this direction. Major aspects of the new FQ design include consistent usage of the new industrial branding and alignment of the color palette. This way of thinking applied to future projects and interfaces make planning, installation and maintenance easier and more efficient. Thus, for example, design and technology have become important principles for future company developments.

*FQ Doors follows a clear strategic agenda focused on profitable and scalable growth. The aim is to strengthen the FQ Door's market position in all segments. FQ Door's list of past and current projects include The Anthem, The DC Convention Center, The Reach - The Kennedy Center, Fort Myers, Walter Reed Hospital, and Glenstone Museum. FQ doors is headquartered in Tysons Corner, VA.
