Description

The Chris Craft 292 is a versatile family boat with a still-attractive profile and an unusually spacious cockpit for a 29-foot cruiser. (Note that the deckhouse is set well forward on the deck to allow space aft for the large cockpit.) The hull is solid fiberglass, and a wide beam results in a fairly roomy interior. The single-level floorplan is almost the same as the older 28 Catalina with berths for six and good headroom throughout. The galley will handle most basic food-prep necessities, and the standup head compartment is equipped with a shower.. Lift-out hatches in the cockpit sole provide good access to the engine compartment. An efficient performer with a pair of Crusader gas engines, the Chris Craft 292 will cruise easily at 19 knots at just 17 gallons per hour—excellent economy indeed. The top speed is about 28–29 knots depending upon the load.

She has an additional guest cabin to the main stateroom.

Owned by a mechanic by trade she is ready to explore.

1/2 inch Fiberglass- she is built tough
