

HEALTH INFORMATION PRIVACY NOTICE

This Notice Describes How Medical Information About You May Be Used and Disclosed and How You Can Get Access to This Information.
Please Review This Document Carefully.

1. About Protection Health Information (PHI).

In this Notice, “we”, “our” or “us” means NISSENBAUM AND SCHLEUSNER PRO PHYSICAL THERAPY, LLC (hereinafter PRO PHYSICAL THERAPY) and our workforce of employees, contractors and volunteers. “you” and “your” refers to each of our patients who are entitled to a copy of this Notice.

We are required by federal and state law to protect the privacy of your health information. For example, federal health information privacy regulations require us to protect information about you in the manner that we describe here in this Notice. Certain types of health information may specifically identify you. Because we must protect this health information we call this Protected Health Information--or “PHI”. In this Notice, we tell you about:

- How we use your PHI
- When we may disclose your PHI to others
- Your privacy rights and how to use them
- Our privacy duties
- Who to contact for more information or a complaint

2. Some of the ways we use (within the organization) or disclose (outside of the organization) your Protected Health Information

We will use your PHI to treat you. We will use your PHI and disclose it to get paid for your care and related services. We use or disclose your PHI for certain activities that we call “health care operations”. We will also use or disclose your PHI as required or permitted by law. We will give you examples of each of these to help explain them but space does not permit a complete list of all uses or disclosures. This is one reason you can contact us and ask us questions.

- Treatment

We will use and disclose your PHI in the course of your treatment. For instance, once we have completed your evaluation or re-evaluation we send a copy or summary of our report to your referring physician. We also maintain records detailing the care and services you receive at PRO Physical Therapy so that we can be accurate and consistent in carrying out that care in an optimal manner; that record also assists us in meeting certain legal requirements. These records may be used and/or disclosed by members of our workforce to assure that proper and optimal care is rendered.

- Payment

After we treat you we will, typically, bill and third party for services you received. We will collect the treatment information and enter the data into our computer and then process a claim either on paper or electronically. The claim form will detail your health problem, what treatments you received and it will include other information such as your social security number, your insurance policy number and/or other identifying pieces of information. The third party payor may also ask to see the records of your care to make certain that the services were medically necessary. When we use and disclose your information in this way, it helps us to get paid for your care and treatment.

- Health Care Operations

We also use and disclose your PHI in our health care operations. For example, our therapists meet periodically to study clinical records to monitor the quality of care at PRO Physical Therapy. Your records and PHI could be used in these quality assessments. Sometimes, we participate in student internship programs and we use the PHI of real patients to test them on their skills and knowledge. Other operational use may involve business planning and compliance monitoring or even the investigation or resolution of a complaint.

- Special Uses

We also use or disclose your PHI for purposes that involve your relationship to us as a patient. We may use or disclose your PHI to:

- a. Remind you of your appointments
- b. Carry out follow ups on home programs that you have been taught
- c. Advise you of new or updated services or home supplies

- Uses & Disclosures Required or Permitted by Law

Many laws and regulations apply to use that affect your PHI, they may either require or permit us to use or disclose your PHI. Here is a list from the federal health information privacy regulations describing required or permitted uses and disclosures:

Permitted:

- a. If you do not verbally object, we may share some of your PHI with a family member or friend if he/she is involved in your care
- b. We may use your PHI in an emergency if you are not able to express yourself
- c. If we receive certain assurances that protect your privacy we may use or disclose your PHI for research

Required:

- a. When required by law; for example, when ordered by a court to turn over certain types of your PHI, we must do so
- b. For public health activities, such as reporting a communicable disease or reporting an adverse reaction to the Food and Drug Administration
- c. To report neglect, abuse or domestic violence
- d. To the government regulators or its agent to determine whether we comply with applicable rules and regulations
- e. In judicial or administrative proceedings such as a response to a valid subpoena
- f. When properly requested by law enforcement officials or other legal requirements such as reporting gunshot wounds
- g. To avert a health hazard or to respond to a threat to public safety such as an imminent crime against another person
- h. Deemed necessary by appropriate military command authorities, if you are in the armed forces
- i. In connection with certain types of organ donor programs

- Stricter Requirement That We Follow

We will follow and all State regulations should they be stricter than these federal policy regulations.

3. Your Authorization May Be Required

In the situations noted above we have the right to use and disclose your PHI. In some situations, however, we must ask for, and you must agree to give, a written authorization that has specific instructions and limits on our use or disclosure of your PHI. If you change your mind, at a later date, you may revoke your authorization.

4. Your Privacy Rights and How to Exercise Them

You have specific rights under our federally required privacy program. Each of them is summarized below:

- Your Right to Request Limited Use or Disclosure
You have the right to request that we do not use or disclose your PHI in a particular way. However, we are not required to abide by your request. If we do agree to your request, we must abide by the agreement; we have the right to ask for the request to be in writing and we will exercise that right.
- Your Right to Confidential Communication
You have the right to receive confidential communication from us at this location or phone number that you specify. We have the right to ask for that request to be in writing noting the other address or phone number and confirmation that it should not interfere with your method of payment; we will exercise the right to have your request in writing.
- Your Right to Inspect and Copy
You have the right to inspect and copy your PHI. Should we decline we must provide you with a resource person to assist you in the review of our refusal decision. We must respond to your request within thirty (30) days, and we may charge reasonable fees for copying and labor time related to copying and we may require an appointment for record inspection; we have the right to ask for your request in writing and will exercise that right.
- Your Right to Revoke Your Authorization
If you have granted us an authorization to use or disclose your PHI you may revoke it at any time in writing. Please understand that we relied on the authority of your authorization prior to the revocation and used or disclosed your PHI within its scope.
- Your Right to Amend Your PHI
You have the right to request an amendment of your record. We have the right to ask for the request in writing and we will exercise that right. We may deny that request if the record is accurate and/or if the record was not created by the PRO Physical Therapy. If we accept the amendment, we must notify you and make effort to notify others who have the original record.

Your Privacy Rights and How To Exercise Them

- Your Right to Know Who Else Sees your PHI
You have the right to request an accounting of certain disclosures that we have made over the past six years. We do not have to account for all disclosures, including those made directly to you, those involving treatment, payment, health care operations, those to the family/friend involved with your care and those involving national security. You have the right to request the accounting annually, and we have the right to ask for the request in writing and to charge for any accounting requests that occur more than once per year.

- Your Right to Complain

You have the right to complain if you feel your privacy rights have been violated. You may complain directly to us or to the Secretary of Health and Human Services. We will not retaliate against you if you file a complaint against us. To file a complaint with us please contact the person identified below in this Notice. Your complaint should provide a reasonable amount of specific detail to enable use to investigate your concern.

5. Some of Our Privacy Obligations and How We Perform Them

We are required to comply with the federal health information privacy regulations. Those rules require us to protect your PHI. Those rules also require us to give you Notice of our Privacy Practices. This document is that Notice. If you did not get a paper copy of this Notice, you may request one. We will abide by the privacy practices set forth in this Notice. However, we reserve the right to change this Notice and our Privacy Practices when permitted or required by law.

If we change our Notice of Privacy Practices, we will provide our revised Notice to you when you next seek treatment from us.
