

PICKLEBALL COACH JIM(BO) COHEN RATES

(As of January 2019)

Jim Cohen, often affectionately referred to as “Coach Jimbo,” is an accomplished USAPA Pickleball Player & Medalist, IPTPA Certified Coach, Referee (USAPA Certification Pending) and Entrepreneur.

Coach “Jimbo” is well-known and respected in the “Pickleball Circuit,” locally, nationally and internationally. He is a dedicated player and frequent tournament medalist (USAPA rated 4.0+) in both doubles and singles, certified national coach, and knowledgeable referee who knows the Rules of the game. Before becoming “addicted” to Pickleball several years ago, Jim was an accomplished tennis/squash/ping pong player. Jim(bo) knows and studies the game, and carefully assesses each individual’s strengths, needs and goals. He listens, guides and challenges students thoughtfully. He has played, studied, coached and refereed the sport for endless hours; and over the years has himself been the fortunate recipient of talented coaching from some of the best and most respected men and women players in this fast-growing, exciting and fun game. As a result, Coach Jimbo brings a caring, encouraging and passionate style of coaching to children, adults and seniors alike, including those with physical or other challenges. He loves to work with families, individuals and groups of players seeking to increase their prowess for recreational and/or competitive, tournament play. Recipients of Jim’s gentle, informal and yet disciplined coaching style have typically commented both on how much they learned and on the fun they’ve experienced in improving their game. A comedian at heart, Jim(bo) nonetheless takes the game seriously, and is committed to empowering interested learners of all ages and abilities to ‘play smart’ and get to their highest level of desired play.
