Stephen,

I am writing to provide Invited with an opportunity to comment prior to publication.

As noted in my prior correspondence, I intend to publish a website presenting my experiences along with supporting documentation and materials related to the matters previously raised. I also intend to submit materials to appropriate authorities for independent review.

Before doing so, I am offering Invited the opportunity to provide any statement, clarification, or position it wishes to have considered in connection with that publication.

If Invited would like to respond, please provide any such comment in writing no later than April 13, 2026 at 5:00 PM.

Absent a response by that time, I will proceed with publication.

This outreach is provided as a professional courtesy and is not intended to reopen prior discussions or negotiations.

All prior communications and materials referenced remain in your possession.

You may contact me directly at:

Regards,
Jason Voit
