This booklet for the spearfishing records of the Tweed Gold Coast Freedivers follows the established format of the Queensland Spearfishing Records booklet published by Australian Underwater Federation Queensland, Brisbane.

The Tweed Gold Coast Freedivers was originally founded in 1984 as the spearfishing component of the Tweed Heads Rowing & Aquatic Club (THRAC) incorporating the Tweed Heads Underwater Club (THUC). This club folded in 1996 and the Tweed Gold Coast Freedivers (TGCFD) was subsequently formed.

All fish must be captured within Australian territorial waters and within the rules of acceptance (excluding state/territory boundaries) as defined within the Queensland Spearfishing Records booklet published by Australian Underwater Federation Queensland, Brisbane. Which can be located at the link provided below.
National Spearfishing Records — Australian Underwater Federation \(auf.com.au\)

The different grades for Spearfishing records follow that of the Tweed Gold Coast Freedivers club spearfishing competition. Masters category is not included in club records:

- J Junior All persons under 18 years
- W Women This grade includes any Junior Women's records
- B B Grade This grade excludes Junior records
- O Open This includes all the above club competition grades.

Record claims for Junior, Women's and B Grade categories commenced in 2016. Any fish for these categories that were captured prior to 2016 must be submitted in accordance with record claim procedures below.

Protected species with existing spearfishing records that can no longer be fished in Queensland waters are shaded in light blue.

- Barramundi Cod (Cromileptes altivelis) became protected in 2003. This species can be fished in Western Australia and New South Wales.
- Red Bass (Lutjanus bohar) became protected in 2003 due to high incidence of ciguatera poisoning cases. This species can be fished in all other states and territories.
- Paddle-tail Sea Perch (Lutjanus gibbus) became protected in 2003 due to high incidence of ciguatera poisoning cases. This species can be fished in all other states and territories.
- Chinaman Fish (Symphorus nematophorus) became protected in 2003 due to high incidence of ciguatera poisoning cases. This species can be fished in all other states and territories.
- Hump-headed Maori Wrasse (Chelinus undulates) became protected in 2003. This species can be fished in Northern Territory and New South Wales.
- Potato Cod (Epinephelus tukula) became protected in 2003. This species can be fished in New South Wales.
- Queensland Grouper (Epinephelus lanceolatus) became protected in the early 1980's.

Upper size limits were imposed to protect the large females to ensure future breeding.

- Barramundi (Lates calcarifer) had an upper size limit of 120cm implemented in 2003.
- Blue Spot Coral Trout (Plectropomus laevis) had an upper size limit of 80cm implemented in 2003. This included Footballer Trout.
- Gold-spot Cod (Epinephelus coioides) had an upper size limit of 120cm implemented in 2008.
- Genus Epinephelus has an upper size limit of 100cm implemented in 2009 within the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park.
- Dusky Flathead (Platycephalus fuscus) had an upper size limit of 75cm implemented in 2008.

To claim a record fish, it must be from one of the following conditions:

- All fish captured within Tweed Gold Coast Freedivers club competitions are automatically considered for club records
- All fish captured within Australian Underwater Federation affiliated club, State or National Australian Underwater Federation sanctioned competitions. It is the competitors responsibility to submit the scoresheet to the TGCF for consideration
- Completion of an approved claim form where fish are captured outside of Australian Underwater Federation sanctioned or Tweed Gold Coast Freedivers club competitions. Record claim form is located at the back of this booklet. A clear photo showing the fish for confirmation of identification along with scale is required
- Clear photos showing the fish for confirmation of identification along with scale, a clear photo showing the girth measurement of the fish (this can be within the same photo for scale) and a clear photo of the fish on scales showing weight. One of these photos must contain the date. Submission must include date, location, fish weight and witness to catch.
- Fish successful in claim for State and/or National spearfishing records are automatically considered for Tweed Gold Coast Freedivers club records and will be updated by the Records Officer annually from the Queensland Spearfishing Records booklet, other State Spearfishing Records Booklets and Australian National Spearfishing Records booklet.
