NEWS UPDATES

The Costume Book is still out in the lobby for you to check out. All classes have begun learning their recital dances as of last week.

- Please make sure to check out the costume book in the studio before Christmas Break. If you have any questions or issues with costumes please let me know before Christmas Break, as we will be placing orders over Christmas to ensure all costumes get here in time for the recital.

- I have measured all students already. I will be double checking to make sure I got everyone before we head into break.
