

My Prayer

Thank You, Jesus, for inviting me to be a part of Your church. Please help us all to be like You and love each other so we can work together. Amen.

"God's people are one body. God has a people whom He is leading, teaching, and guiding, that they may teach and lead and guide others.... He expects them to grow up as a holy temple unto the Lord" (Manuscript Releases, vol. 20, p. 369).

Penny for Your thoughts

Think about different car parts and how they all work. Now think about the church and list as many "parts" you can. (e.g., Pastor-leader)

Many Parts

"This work must continue until we are all joined together in the same faith." —Ephesians 4:13

My Story

Allen and his dad walked down the aisle of the department store. They were in the auto supply section, and Allen enjoyed looking at all the different products for making cars and trucks look and drive better. "I want to find new tires that will help us drive in the snow this coming winter," Dad said to the salesperson.

"No problem," the salesperson answered with a smile. "We have just the tire you're looking for." He pointed to a display by the window. "Here we are. Our best snow tires."

"They look great," Dad said. "I'll take two, please."

"Yes sir," the salesman said, writing information on a pad of paper. "I'll have someone bring them to your car. Then, when winter begins, you bring them here to our store, and we'll put them on your car. You'll be able to drive through deep snow without any problem."

After they got home, Allen helped Dad pull the new tires out of the trunk and then sat down on one of them to rest. "Tires are heavy," he said.

Dad looked at him and laughed. "Now, don't go driving away. It's almost suppertime."

Allen blinked. "Drive away? Dad, you can't drive just one tire!"

"Really?" Dad asked. "What else do you need?"

Allen thought for a moment. "Well, you have to have a motor and a seat and a steering wheel and brakes and gasoline and lots of other stuff."

"Kinda reminds me of a church," Dad said.

"A church?" Allen gasped. "How does a car remind you of a church?"

"Well, in a church, you have to have many parts too. You can't have just a preacher. You have to have someone to play the organ or piano, someone to welcome visitors, someone to take up the offering, someone to tell the children's story, someone to give Bible studies to new members. Oh, and you certainly want people sitting in the pews. A church needs lots of different kinds of people to be a church just like a car needs lots of different parts to be a car."

Dad smiled down at his son. "What would happen if you took some parts out of a car?"

Allen grinned. "If you took the engine out, it wouldn't run. If you took the tires away, it wouldn't go anywhere. If you took the steering wheel out, you couldn't make the car go where you want to go."

"That's right," Dad said. "And if people decide they don't want to be a part of God's family and leave the church, that church doesn't run as well as it can. It can't do so many helpful things for the community. You see, it takes all the parts of the church working together to share God's love with the world. That means you and I are important to God's church."

Allen smiled. "I'm glad I'm part of God's family. I'm glad I'm part of our church."

"Me, too," Dad said. "Now let's go have supper. Mom makes the most delicious parts of a meal that I've ever tasted."

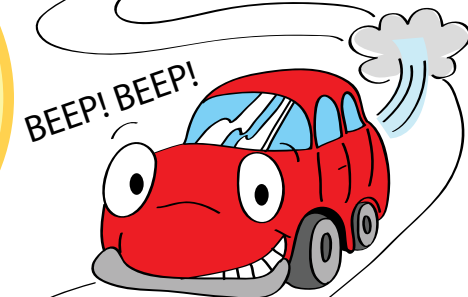

An Average Car: A single car has about 30,000 parts, counting every part down to the smallest screws.[†]
