President's Message

*Kathy Anderson, President
LeClaire Chamber of Commerce*

At Your Service in 2021. This past year taught us to think in new ways to manage our businesses. Forbes magazine posted an interesting article in December titled 15 Trends That are Expected to Drive Small Business in 2021. Two trends caught my attention and can directly impact our business community.

The first is Local Community Networking which means small businesses need to connect with their communities more than ever. The second is Creative Joint Ventures, in which more small businesses will seek out creative collaborations and joint ventures to increase their longer-term survivability.

The Chamber is at your service to help provide local community networking and creative joint ventures. Consumers made shopping and supporting small business a priority last year and that trend is expected to continue into 2021. Now is the time to connect and collaborate. One way to do that is to share your updates in our weekly e-news, quarterly e-newsletter, Facebook and Instagram. You can send to leclairchamber@gmail.com.

We, too, had to find new ways to do familiar things like the Annual Awards Dinner and Auction. Our auction went virtual in January and, thanks to you, we raised $6,795. Our Annual Awards went virtual, too, with a Facebook Live Event on March 2. Watch the event on the Chamber's Facebook page. It was different than celebrating with you in person at Steventon's or the Davenport Country Club. We're hopeful to safely resume in person events this summer.

There was good news in 2020! We welcomed 11 new businesses and five event centers opened or will open in 2021. Several businesses moved to new locations. Sadly, six businesses closed, including Artswork. Thank you Deb Willaredt, Artswork owner, for 23 great years!

Right now, the Chamber's focus is on memberships. If you renewed a membership or joined for the first time, thank you. There are many benefits you receive as a member. One of these is networking which helps us connect your business with the many inquiries we receive via our website, email, Facebook and Instagram about businesses and events in LeClaire. It's easy to join or renew online at www.LeClaireChamber.com or download the application form.

Thank you for your investment in the Chamber. At your service in 2021!

Local 4 News Over Coffee

LeClaire made the news! Did you catch us on Local 4 News with Mike Mickle in his live February segment of Local 4 News Over Coffee? . The Mississippi River Distilling Company (MRDC) was the location. Mayor Ray Allen, Councilman Dennis Gerard, Tourism Director Cindy Bruhn, Chamber President Kathy Anderson and Fire Chief Jim Bradley shared their perspectives on 2020 with Mike including the good news for our community in 2021. Ryan Burchett, MRDC co-owner and distiller, closed out the segment with an invitation to Mike to return to LeClaire anytime. Thanks, Mike, for your visit.

We look forward to welcoming you back any time!

Annual Auction

The LeClaire Chamber of Commerce held our annual auction virtually this year in January. It was hosted by Dosland Auction Services out of Grand Mound. Thanks to Debbie Mulvania for chairing the auction. A very special thanks to all who generously donated items for the auction.

We were really happy with the results of our first-time online auction. There were 69 active bidders on the 46 items. A portion of the auction proceeds was donated to LeClaire Parks & Rec in support of continued park improvements. Parks & Rec is doing a great job of enhancing recreational spaces with improvements to Holly Hock Park and the new Huckleberry Park. The parks were a bright spot this last year for families. The Chamber is pleased to announce that we have donated $1,000 from this year's auction proceeds to LeClaire Parks and Rec. We can't wait to see what they do in the future for LeClaire and its residents and tourists.

Local LeClaire Business, Byoot Company, on Shark Tank

If you were watching ABC's Shark Tank on Friday, February 19th, you might've noticed local LeClaire business owners, Elyce and Nathan Billany. They had the opportunity to showcase their swimsuit company, Byoot Company, on national television to see if they could get an investor for their swimwear brand. The company focuses on making swimsuits that feature buttons on the side for easy removal.

The idea first came to founder, Elyce, when she was struggling to pull up her one piece for the hundredth time in a dirty beach bathroom in Jamaica. She loves the look of a one-piece swimsuit but knew there had to be a better way. That's when she decided to go forward with her own designs and focus on the easy removability while keeping the aesthetic of a one-piece swimsuit.

During the process of designing and bringing her suit to life, she learned so much! She found an experienced and reputable manufacturer in New York and has worked with them to ensure their suits are made with the finest quality fabric and also offers women a swimsuit that washes well and maintains shape a colorful vibrancy.

Elyce's story started with adding buttons to a swimsuit, so buttons now represent a whole new life that she's embarked on. They are increasingly symbolic to go after what she loves and enjoy the ups as well as downs that life has to bring.

Byoot Company's mission is to bring together love and fashion in a byootiful way.

Elyce has also published a children's book, Mama Bean, to remind herself and her little bean that dreams are worth the hard work. Mama Bean represents the hard-working mamas who put their baby beans to bed night after night and work on their dreams. For every book sold, 10 percent of profits are donated to the liveyourdream.orgcharity.

LiveYourDream is a movement fiercely dedicated to ensuring every woman and girl has the opportunity to reach her full potential, be free from violence and live her dreams.
