Surprisingly, the best aspect in the game isn't a legendary aspect, it's the modest second aspect available for the bow. This weapon isn't perfect. The regular bow's special attack does slightly more damage if you get in enemies' faces with it and shotgun the special attack into them. Still, equipping the Aspect. But as indicated before, most run can benefit from 2/3 God's keepsake in order to "force" a build you have in mind. Fists are a little more flexible. The hidden aspect is dangerous, but powerful, the aspect of demeter has the highest dps after some titan blood, the aspect of talos also has high dps after 1 or 2 upgrades, and aspect of Zagreus is funny with a good bit of survivability (especially with lambent plume, dodge boons, and reckless reflex). Achilles aspect works well as a cast build, and is probably the best aspect for the hunting blades duo w/ Artemis and Ares. Zeus cast also works quite well with Achilles, as it will bounce around and clear out rooms. The best builds are ME or crit, with the latter being the high-roll build. Rail and Fist do swing higher than the rest, but a focused Zeus Fist build for example will get ~1.7B over a focused Zeus Spear build (including legendary boon).
