Mission Study Survey 2 — Your Voice Matters

The Mission Study Team has developed two surveys for our congregation to complete. Survey 1 is complete, now it is time for Survey 2. These surveys are an important part of helping us understand who we are as a congregation and where God may be leading us in the future. Every member's input is important.

Please take a few minutes to complete the second survey and prayerfully share your thoughts. Your participation will help shape the future of our church.

Survey 2 will also be in this coming Sunday's Live Link and also in next week's News and Notes. There are paper copies of survey #2 at the Welcome Center.

Survey #2 must be back by SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 8.

Please make completing the Mission Study Survey 2 a priority.

Use the link below to complete the survey online.

MISSION STUDY SURVEY 2 LINK

The Mission Study Team will present their report to the congregation on Sunday, December 6 immediately following the Worship Service.

A Reminder About Giving

FPC family, we want to remind you of the importance of faithful giving. Our gifts help support the ministry, mission, and ongoing needs of our church and community.
We are grateful for every gift and for your continued generosity. If you haven't had an opportunity to give recently, we invite you to prayerfully consider doing so.
As always, thank you for your generosity and for helping support the ministry and mission of FPC-Noblesville. Whether you give online, by check, or Tithle.y, we are grateful for your faithful support!

2025 & 2026 PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN AWARDS

Each year the Presbyterian Women Coordinating Team (PWCT) award honors to those who have faithfully served. The two awards given are the Honorary Life Membership and the Service and Dedication Award.

The Honorary life Membership program was established in the Presbyterian Church to honor faithful service to the women's organization and to the church. More than a thousand women (and a few men) receive this honor each year. With this recognition, the honoree will receive a certificate and a silver pin.

Service and Dedication Award was created that more individuals, who had faithfully and consistently served this church over a span of time. Each individual, giving time and their talents in their own quiet way. This award comes in the form of a certificate and may be awarded to any individual—man or woman—for his or her continual service to our church.

In the mid 1980's the Presbyterian Women at FPC-Noblesville was reestablished by three dedicated women of FPC-Noblesville: Lara Jane Cullen, Reta Hanenburg, and GG Nash. Two recipients awarded honors this past Sunday are legacy members of PW – Marlee Light is the granddaughter of Reta Hanenburg and Trisha McDermand is the daughter of GG Nash.

Congratulations to the 2025 and 2026 Award Recipients!!!

The Holiday Cheese Balls Are Coming!

It’s become one of FPC’s favorite holiday traditions, and we’re excited to bring it back for another delicious season! The Mission Team’s Annual Holiday Cheese Ball Sale is your chance to stock up for holiday gatherings, gift-giving, and festive snacking.

Choose from three crowd-pleasing favorites:

- Classic Bacon & Onion (or request “no-onion”)
- Vegetarian
- Chocolate Chip Dessert

What to expect:

- Sample all three varieties and pick your favorites during Fellowship Hour on Sunday, Nov. 1
- Place your pre-orders Nov. 1-15
- Still just $12 each, can be frozen and ready when you need them
- Pick up your order on Sunday, Nov. 22 after church

Every cheese ball purchased helps support FPC mission projects, making this a delicious way to make a difference. Whether you're carrying on a family tradition or discovering a new favorite, don’t miss out, these popular holiday treats go fast!

Order Your Cheese Balls OnLine!

Fall Cleanup: Many Hands Make Light Work!

It's time to show our church some love and send those fall leaves packing! Join us on Saturday, November 14, from 9:00 a.m. to noon for our Fall Cleanup Day.

We'll be washing windows, tackling classroom windowsills, sprucing up the office workroom, raking leaves, and taking care of a few other small tasks. There's a little something for everyone—and don't worry, no superhero cape required!

Bring your willing hands, a cheerful spirit, and maybe a pair of work gloves. We'll work together, get things looking great, and hopefully have a few laughs along the way.

And there's even more good news: the Deacons will be serving lunch! So come ready to work up an appetite. Nothing motivates a cleanup crew quite like the promise of a good meal!

Come for an hour or stay for the whole morning. Every helping hand makes a difference!

Let's make our church shine from the windows to the windowsills to the great outdoors. And remember: many hands make light work, especially when lunch is waiting at the finish line!

Weekly Devotion…

1 Corinthians 14:34-36

"[34]women should be silent in the churches. For they are not permitted to speak, but should be subordinate, as the law also says. [35]If there is anything they desire to know, let them ask their husbands at home. For it is shameful for a woman to speak in church. [36]Or did the word of God originate with you? Or are you the only ones it has reached?"

Where Did THIS Come From?

October 29, 2026

My Beloved -

When I was a young English Major, I was taught that an author's words were sacred. Only the author had the right to change something after it had been published, and then it had to be recognized as a separate edition apart from the original. No one but the author was allowed to change anything.

I was surprised, then, to learn that that was not always true. There have been periods when lesser talents felt that they had the right to improve on another writer's work and did so quite often. Usually, they published under the original author's name, with their own names sometimes, but not always, included. Case in point: William Shakespeare's "Hamlet" went through a number of revisions in the 1700s & 1800s. At various times audiences thought that Hamlet was too crude, that the play was too long, that there should be more suspense or less suspense. Playwrights, actors and theater managers freely changed the script to suit the audience – sometimes with no acknowledgement of what they had done. It was common practice and everyone accepted it.

The same appears to have been true at the time of the early church. At first glance, our lesson this morning appears to be Paul writing on the subject of women and power in the church. But are those really Paul's words? Or were they added later by someone trying to improve on Paul? Were they added at a time when attitudes towards women had changed, and a lesser talent was trying to make Paul's words fit the conventions of the day?

In cases like this, it is wise to let the Bible interpret itself. Does this sound like the rest of 1 Corinthians? Three passages suggest that it does not.

First, Paul is writing because he has received a message from Chloe's people that the church in Corinth is in conflict (1 Corinthians 1:11). If Paul is not allowing a woman to speak in a worship service, why is he taking messages from a woman? It's inconsistent, if nothing else.

Second, Paul freely recognizes basic equality between men and women and admonishes that they should treat each other as equals. Especially in the matter of conjugal rights (1 Corinthians 7:1-6). Note, also, that Paul is very clear when he is giving his own advice, not a command from God (Cf: 1 Corinthians 7:10, 17, 25).

Third, it is clear that women are already speaking up in the church! Paul's concern is not that they are praying and prophesying per se. His concern is that they keep their heads covered (1 Corinthians 11:5). If that argument sounds thin to you, it must have sounded thin to him, also. He ends by throwing up his hands and saying, "That's not how we do things around here (1 Corinthians 11:16)!"

From these few instances alone, it is evident that these were not Paul's words. They were added by later, probably by someone with good intentions who was just trying to do the right thing. But in doing so, this second author diluted Paul's message of respect for women, thereby enabling centuries of hateful misogyny.

But what if somehow we could prove that these were Paul's words and that he meant them to be understood just as they were written?

As Presbyterians, we know that the Bible was written fallible human beings under the direction of the Holy Spirit. Sometimes they got it wrong, and this would be one of those times.

Reading our text with the aid of the Holy Spirit, we can't help but come to the conclusion that reducing women this way is both misguided and wrong. Over time, the church has learned that women are every bit as intelligent and capable as men. Women can lead just as well as men can. And women can hear God's word just as well as men can. Why would the Holy Spirit want us to subordinate them, shutting them out from church leadership, when they have so much to give?

It's a problematic passage, but it's also easy to resolve. No matter who wrote them, as Presbyterians we agree that the Holy Spirit can, and does, use women and men equally in ministry to share the good news of the God who loves us all, equally.

Thanks be to God! Amen.

Minute for Mission

URGENT: Help Care for Our Riverwood Neighbors!

We need your help! If you would be willing to prepare meals, volunteer your time, or assist in coordinating this ministry, please contact Sue Jourdan. There are opportunities to furnish food for lunch next week.

We are also collecting $20 gift cards to local restaurants that can be distributed directly to Riverwood residents, giving them another option for meals while they work toward returning home.

This is an opportunity for us as a church family to put our faith into action and show the love of Christ to our neighbors when they need it most. Every meal, gift card, and helping hand can make a difference.

Fellowship, Food, & Furry Friends

What a moo-velous evening we had this past Friday at Mark Wisely's farm! Our bonfire was a blazing success, the hayride was full of fun (and perhaps a few bumpy surprises), and the pitch-in table was piled high with enough delicious food to make everyone consider taking a second or third lap! And then there were the fluffy Highland cows—looking like giant, shaggy teddy bears who had absolutely no intention of helping with the cleanup. Between the fellowship, laughter, good food, and cozy fireside fun, it was a wonderful evening of making memories together. A big thank-you to Mark Wisely for hosting us and Trish and Bob Moore for organizing the event. We're grateful for such a wonderful church family—and we suspect those Highland cows are still wondering why we didn't bring them a plate!

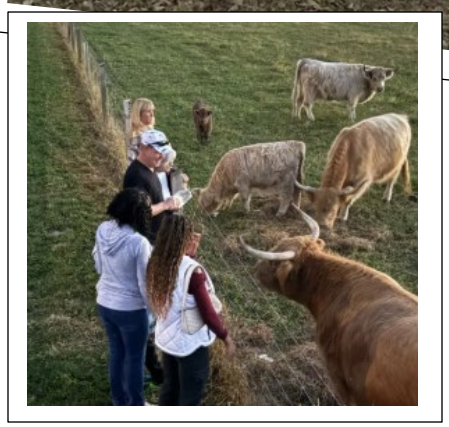

2026 Trunk or Treat

Our Trunk or Treat this past Saturday evening was a spooktacular success! 🎃 With 16 creatively decorated trunks, fun crafts, and enough hot dogs to make even the hungriest werewolf howl with happiness, there was something for everyone to enjoy. The kids collected treats, showed off their costumes, and had a frightfully good time, while the grown-ups enjoyed the fellowship (and maybe a hot dog or two… or three!). A huge thank-you to everyone who decorated trunks, helped with crafts, served food, and made the evening so much fun. We had a boo-tiful turnout, and we're already looking forward to next year! 👻🌭

And the 2026 Golden Pumpkin Award goes too…

PRESBYTERIAN CORNER

If you missed the previous articles – click the Presbyterian Corner above and you can catch up on what you missed on the FPC webpage.

This past Sunday was Reformation Sunday. In the Presbyterian Church, "Reformed" refers to a tradition of Christian faith that grew out of the Protestant Reformation in the 1500s. It describes a particular way of understanding the Bible, salvation, God's sovereignty, and the purpose of the church. Presbyterian churches are historically part of the Reformed tradition, which was shaped especially by the teachings of the Protestant reformer John Calvin, along with other Reformation leaders.

What does being Reformed mean?

- The Bible is the highest authority. Christian beliefs and practices should be grounded in Scripture rather than resting solely on church traditions or human opinions.
- God is sovereign. God is ultimately in control of creation and history, and God's purposes are greater than human understanding.
- Salvation is a gift of God's grace. People are saved through God's grace, received through faith in Jesus Christ—not by earning God's favor through good deeds.
- God takes the initiative in salvation. Reformed theology emphasizes that God's grace is at work in bringing people to faith, rather than salvation being something people accomplish on their own.
- Faith should shape everyday life. Worship, work, family, service to others, and care for the community all belong to the Christian life.
- Church leadership is shared. Presbyterian churches are governed by elected elders, rather than being led solely by a single bishop or pastor. The word Presbyterian comes from a Greek word meaning "elder."

Why is it called "Reformed"?

The word refers to the effort to reform the church according to the Bible during the Protestant Reformation. Leaders such as John Calvin and John Knox helped shape the tradition that eventually became closely associated with Presbyterian churches.

A helpful way to remember the distinction is:

- Christian describes the faith centered on Jesus Christ.
- Reformed describes a theological tradition within Christianity.
- Presbyterian describes a church tradition especially known for its system of government by elders.

If you missed last Sunday's Service on what Reformation means "In a Nutshell" – you can watch it here.

SUNDAY VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES!

Wanted: Fellowship Hosts (Saints Who Aren't Afraid of Dishes!)

One of the best parts of Sunday morning is gathering after worship for good food, great conversation, and a little extra fellowship! A big THANK YOU to everyone who has already hosted—you are proof that miracles happen, especially when there are snacks involved! 😊

Now we need a few more willing hands (and maybe a few willing spatulas). Hosting means bringing some food to share, helping set things up, and cleaning up afterward. Don't worry—you don't have to be a gourmet chef, own a catering company, or have a dishwasher the size of a small car. Simple treats and a willing heart are all it takes!

We still need a host or two or three for November 15 and hosts for most of December. Grab a friend, team up with another family, and make it a group effort! Many hands make light work—and many cookies make happy church members.

If you can help, please sign up! You'll be blessing our church family, and we promise the fellowship is always better when there's something good to eat. 😉

See Catherine Byrnside in the kitchen and sign up to be a fellowship host – become the person who saves the Fellowship Hour!

Calling All Lay Leaders!!!

Do you enjoy helping with worship? We're still looking for a few wonderful folks to serve as Lay Leaders for Sunday Worship.

No special superpowers required—just a willing heart and a little time!

If you're willing to help lead, read, assist, or serve in worship, please let us know.

Many hands make light work—and worship is better when we all participate!

Thank you to everyone who helps make our Sunday worship special!

Sign up to be a lay leader and help make our worship service special! If interested, contact Susan Clark at sclark2428@yahoo.com.

Adult Sunday School

For November 1, the Adult SS Class will view the 30-minute, Session 3 of the DEBORAH DVD series by Sandra Richter, PhD, entitled: "The Cycle of the Judges". This Bible study draws you immediately into the grand story of Deborah and challenges you, as a Christ follower, to ask yourself the same questions God asked of the Israelites. Can WE be obedient to the will of God?

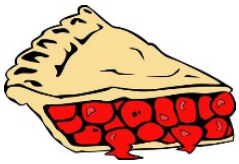

This Bible study draws you immediately into the grand story of Deborah and challenges you, as a Christ follower, to ask yourself the same questions God asked of Deborah and Barak.

The class meets in the adult classroom downstairs directly under church office at 9:00 am.
