

Avalanche

An avalanche of flowers finally arrived
With our anticipation
Fabulous summer weather
As spring galloped away with such tremendous force
The gorgeous beauty of this scenery
Is unspeakable to the senses
The suddenness of this change
In our lives is so startling
Though it reoccurs in cycles continually
It comes on it's own time periodically
The marvelous wonders of nature
That we cannot change
It's beyond our reach to challenge it
We wonder how it is
That systematically this continues methodically
Even after we gone forever
