

Broken

Accumulated in my mind broken fragments of your love
Broken fragments into time escape
Escape between the cracks of life
They escape breaking the foundation
Tender thoughts found me today
As they flew pass me and conquered my mind
Like flowers blossoming their scents
As a rock hits the pavement with a thud
I felt the need to remember
Your face smiling down
Let's do it again honey
Even though I know we can't
That's the only way I can have you
If you remember someone and it makes you feel good
You will never cross my path again
But I love you
Love you always
Remembering time spent with you again
My heart dangling with expectation
Never to return again
The misty tears are gone
It's been a long time ago
The emotional grip of existence
Broken forever
