

Empty Now

Into stretches of time
My destiny rolls into oblivion
The pain of departure rocks my insides
Copulates me to nothingness
To feel an aspect of humanity
Involuntary torture grasps me
Till there is no serenity
But a void corpse
With a mind to go on Necessitates life as is
Not as it was before
Shake the boundaries of my existence
Thread the pieces of reality
Trapped in my dreams
Which exist in the darkness of night
What possesses my being
Evacuation of mankind
The mind cries into the body
To respond to never be again
Time up only bodily
The mind does not give up
It makes me
