

Continued - Ghost Dance

The place we spend so much time together

Because it reminds you of me

The ghosts of the past come out

To dance to the tune of the present

You have gone far away

But not far enough

For we are linked forever in memory

I wonder when I think of you

Are you thinking of me

The ghosts of the past come out

To dance to the tune of the present

I see our ghosts of long ago

Still sitting at the bar

I understand the way you feel

Because I feel the same way
