

Glistens

The stupendous lake sparkling like genuine diamonds

Sunlight beaming gems of gold

Sapphire is the sky above

Touching the white coral of the clouds

Gently surrounding them

Green emerald of the landscape

Extends to the shoreline

Threading altogether

This intricate beauty as it glistens now

Renata Dawidowicz

Published in : "Bell's Letters 67"

On page 35 - Autumn, 1992

Published in: "Smile" – No.58

On Page 6- Spring 2009

