

Halo

A halo of trees bursting with leaves
Comes alive today
After a cold long winter
It's magic to the senses
As different shades of green
Appear on bare barks
As the rain sends droplets from above
To be alive and be entwined
With this magic appearing all at once
Giving me the feeling of involvement
With my surroundings
Appearing and bursting all around
Giving us hope
That we will survive the centuries

Renata Dawidowicz

Published in: "Senior Living News" – Oakland County

On page 21 – May 2008