

Lapsing

Lapsing into thoughts of you
Gently slipping into my reality now
A sentimental evening overtakes me
The torture of losing you
It's been a while since
You have been ringing my phone
Your time was up before mine
I still can't believe it's possible
For events to so unexpectedly turn around
But they did and time took care of that
I could never have enough of your love
It's so magnificent that you cared
My life was overtaken with magic
With your presence here
But the dream has faded away
The musical toy you gave me
Plays only for me now
I feel the pain of emptiness
It just caught me unexpectedly

Renata Dawidowicz

Published in: "Omnific"

On page 64-1997

