

Morning

The cat jumped over the wall to safety

Hearing my car turn the road

It's so cold today

Winter jumped over fall

I needed a cup of coffee

I jumped out of my car to the nearest restaurant

To relax

As the morning jumped over the darkness

I feel wonderful

I jumped over yesterday for today

Come on baby smile smile

We jumped to the feelings of existence

Renata Dawidowicz

Published in: "Bell's Letters"

On page 57- Spring 1994

