

Nearly

Nearly spring

All the bare branches are exposed

Ready to tango

When their blooms start sprouting

And the wind and rain

Shake them up with rejuvenation

Two delightful geese have arrived

Ready for this renewal in nature

Green sprouts coming out

Of the hugely brown leaf covered earth

Invading our world with their beauty

A new generation springs from the earth

The story has been retold for centuries

But there is a missing link

Only we can make it complete

By enjoying each moment of life

With all our energy

Renata Dawidowicz

Published in : "Letter Funder- #66"

On page 5- Dec. 2009

