

Popcorn - Treat

Children throwing popcorn
Happily stretching out their hands
At once the ducks start swimming
To the shore to catch their prize
On a glorious hot spring day
While the bass stretch their mouths wide open
And gobble the popcorn with rapid speed
About fifty bass mouths appear ready for their popcorn treat
There is no fishing and hunting here
So the fish and ducks are all friendly
And bask themselves in all this attention
Except the ducks get irritated and snap at the aggressive bass
As their prize of popcorn is snatched from under them
They are amusing neighbors
Sharing the limelight together
The children love to throw treats
Everyone is a winner as the performance goes on
