Re; Athena Aircraft

To Whom It May Concern:

Athena Aircraft is a great partner and someone worth having in your corner when an issue arises.

Recently, we sold an STC approved 2-place divan to a customer looking to install it for their customer in a Part 135 bizjet. Due to unique circumstances with the installation and the airplane, our customer ran into issues that temporarily hindered completion of the 135 conformity inspection. That's where Athena Aircraft rose to the occasion. They were quick to issue and receive FAA approval on an AFMS, accommodating the uniqueness of the situation and coordinating the work of several independent professionals in order to move the conformity forward. Everything was completed in less than a week which is even more notable because it was the week of Christmas!

We were very grateful for their support and look forward to many more projects down the road with Athena Aircraft.

Best Regards,
