

My passion for the performing arts was ignited after watching a VHS tape of "Singing in the Rain". It wasn't until a fateful summer of watching PBS that I've discovered Drum & Bugle Corps, and more specifically, colorguard. Phantom Regiment's 1996 show "Defiant Heart" had me smitten, and that summer I joined my high schools colorguard. During HS I was also involved in chorus and our musical theatre program. My HS guard director encouraged me to audition for Teal Sound Drum & Bugle Corp my junior year. I earned a spot and spent 4 awesome summers with the program from 1999-2002. The winter of 2002 I marched my very 1st year of winterguard at Ancient City Ensemble; from there I marched my age-out summer at Southwind Drum and Bugle Corps. I continued my winterguard career marching Paradigm from 2003-2007 and Northeast Independent from 2008-2009. I have also worked with several high schools in the North Florida area and have performed in a handful of shows in the community theater circuit. Outside of the performing arts, I love raising my 2 boys with my husband and being their biggest cheerleader in life. Some of my favorite things are going to concerts, baking, a good cover song (or a really good mix tape), a chilly Fall day, a sweaty workout, a clean flag moment, dinner parties with friends, spooky season, all things Christmas, and a good giggle-fest with my loved ones.
